THE MACHINE SCORED And Wilson Indorsed by Breathitt Convention

The Republicans of Breathitt county met in convention at the court-house in Jackson, Ky., on June 15th, 1907, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the Republican State convention to be held in Louisville, Ky., on June 19, 1907, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various State offices to be voted for at the November election, 1907.

The convention was called to order by J. B. McLean, chairman, with Kelly Kash as secretary.

On motion duly made and seconded, the county organization was made the temporary and permanent organization of the convention.

All the committees, except the Committee on Resolutions, were dispensed with and the chairman appointed the following Committee on Resolutions: Martin T. Kelly, A. S. Johnson, E. L. Noble, Price Cole, W. S. Hogg, A. H. Patton, R. A. Hurst, J. Wise Hagins, Charles Terry, Z. T. Hurst and John C. Griffith.

The following resolutions were reported:
Resolved, First.—That we improve the call and time and place of this convention and of the convention called to meet in Louisville, on June 19, 1907, for the purpose of nominating candidates on the Republican ticket for the various State offices to be voted for at the November election, 1907.

Resolved, Second.—That we heartily endorse the National Administration of President Roosevelt as being upright and patriotic, and as being subservient of the best interests of the American people, and we pledge our earnest support in the promotion of his policies and in our support to his successor in the Presidential chair who will carry out and promote the principles of the present administration, and to that end we earnestly believe that it would be to the best interest of the Republican party and the people of Kentucky to endorse in express terms the principles and workings of the present National administration.

Resolved, Third.—That we most bitterly condemn the present Democratic administration at Frankfort, Ky., as being subservient of the few against the welfare of the many, and because of persons high in official life at Frankfort and the Governor of Kentucky have used public offices for private gain and in fostering ambitions of private individuals and in creating offices and positions for friends of the administration, when such offices were not necessary in promoting the general welfare or the common good of the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky; because the State Executive, through lack of personal dignity and power, has abused his official privileges in the appointment of various officers, and has especially brought shame and reproach upon the judiciary.

Resolved, Fourth.—That we believe in a square deal to every man, and therefore condemn the outrage committed against the people of Breathitt county by the Democratic machine in that they have refused a primary election to be held in Breathitt county to nominate candidates on the Democratic ticket for various State offices by refusing to furnish ballots for the Democratic precincts and in refusing to appoint any friend of McCreary as officer of the election in any of the precincts of the county.

Because the State Executive has protected and attempted to protect men charged with crime who are in the councils of the Democratic party in Kentucky, and has used his appointing power as executive in the protection of personal friends.

Resolved, Fifth.—That we pledge our earnest efforts towards the reformation of these conditions in placing the Executive upon an exalted plane and the removal of personal lines, in giving fair and proper representation in the Legislative body, and in fostering and promoting the sanctity and purity of the judiciary of the State of Kentucky.

Resolved, Sixth.—That the following delegates be appointed to represent Breathitt county in the State convention to be held in Louisville, Ky., on June 19, 1907: R. B. Gardner, D. D. Felt, Andrew Hays, M. S. Chaffin, P. Crain, R. A. Hurst, J. Hurst, John C. Griffith, S. H. Hurst, B. Noble, Grant Lacy, B. McLean, J. Wise Hagins, H. L. Patton, Z. T. Hurst, A. Johnson, S. M. Noble, Sanford Town, P. D. Noble, Martin T. Kelly, T. P. Cardwell, Jr., H. H. Johnson, W. H. Hogg, E. C. Kash, S. Hogg, Kelly, John E. Erick, H. C. Hurst, T. P. Cole, L. Boylin, James G. Bell, J. L. Little, Wm. Moore, W. J. Whiteker, T. P. Cardwell, E. A. P. Crawford, Charles Terry, H. P. Davis, E. L. Noble, J. S. Blanton, John Hurst, L. E. Even, Hardin Childers, J. M. Davis, Mason Wright, John Herald, O. A. Hagins, Potter, D. W. R. Day and W. L. Evers, and that said delegates be instructed to cast the eight votes of Breathitt county in said convention for honorable Augustus E. Wilson for governor, and that said delegates vote as a unit for all candidates for various State offices, and upon all measures that come up before said convention.

Resolved, Seventh.—That The Breathitt County News, Winchester, Sun-Sentinel, Breathitt Enterprise, Lexington Leader, Mt. Sterling Gazette, Louisville Evening Post and Louisville Herald be requested to publish these resolutions.

SEVEN YEARS AGO

An Old Weather Prophet Hit Present Weather.

In those good old days away back in 1837, when the vineclad porch of every village tavern sheltered one or more weather sharps whose prognostications were based upon the presumed infallibility of the goosebone as a weather indicator, there lived a man, name unknown, who modestly tied knots in weather predictions.

He was no "picker". His prophecies belied the world, and he did no "back tracking," when he told the universe what brand of weather was going to be served to the world seven years from then.

His predictions were printed in an almanac which was then popular, and in going through the dusty drawers of an old bureau Mrs. W. C. Langenacker, of Toledo, daughter of Edward Durban, of this city, found one of these almanacs of the issue of 1837. In scanning its leaves the first thing that caught her eye was the following significant sentence.

"There will be no summer in the year 1907."

This started from the musty pages of the old almanac in a matter-of-fact way, as if its author had made the prediction hurriedly in order to go home to supper. Mrs. Langenacker lost no time in writing to her father, relative to the incident, and Mr. Durban immediately canceled his order for a straw hat. That old philosopher had his finger on the pulse of the future, for summer hasn't as yet presented her rosy cheek to be kissed by the officers of summer resorts. When resurrection day comes he will pop out of his forgotten grave and gleefully cry "I told you so."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

D. C. Scott, Avon, Ky. says: I used Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy after other remedies had failed and it speedily effected a cure. It had cured several herds in my neighborhood without the loss of a single hog. Sold and guaranteed by Day Bros Co.

To Our Correspondents.

Please report news that is available early in the week. Mail your letters on Monday morning if possible. The sooner the better. It is a bad showing to see a quarter or half column of personals from any place, with no mention of important things that may have happened. By "important" things are deaths, accidents, fires, real estate deals, live stock sales, new buildings, new enterprises, all kinds of meetings and the action taking by them, social functions, etc. Omit all such items as "So and so was calling on his best girl."

Woburn.

(Too late for last week.)
Mrs. Sarah Aikman is visiting at Crockettville.

Mrs. Elsie Aikman, who has been sick for a few days, is improving.

Robert Morris has a new banjo. Look out, boys, for there's music in the air.

Wesley Morris and son, Greenberry, went to Jackson a few days ago after a boat load of goods.

A somewhat queer circumstance happened here a few days ago. A little girl went cow hunting and when she found her the animal had a hole cut in her tail and a rock weighing about 30 pounds tied to it, and her mouth was propped open with a large stick. There is no clue to lead to the perpetrator of this human act.

A Visitor.

Quicksand.
(Too late for last week.)
Price Back is on the sick list.

Born, to Gus Combs and wife, a boy.

N. C. Campbell, the saw mill man, was here last Wednesday.

Each, to G. W. Whitaker last week.

It is reported that the Ohio Valley Tie Co. and Day Bros. lost about 40,000 ties during the last tide.

Capt. J. W. Ford was in this vicinity last week looking after the interests of the Ohio Valley Tie Co.

There will be an entertainment at the school house in District No. 18 on the Fourth of July. Every one is invited to come and bring some one with them.

Thunder and lightning killed three head of cattle on Big branch last week. One belonged to A. A. D. Clemons and the others to Lit Combs.

Three of the largest logs came down the river on the last tide that the people here have any recollection of. The owners claimed that the three had over 7,000 feet in them.

Crockettsville.

(Too late for last week.)
Joel Turner had a corn hecing Friday.

Timothy Turner lost a fine steer last week.

Stephen Turner, of Canoe, was here Sunday.

Ed Callahan had about 4,000 ties rafted and run on the last tide.

Thomas Davidson, of Jackson, was here Sunday visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Roxie Aikman, of Woburn, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. L. C. Bowling.

Miss Lillie B. Deaton, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. George Johnson, over Sunday.

L. C. Bowling is visiting his brother, John Belcher, and family, of Shouder Blade.

Clifton Gress, of Athol, was visiting at the home of Ed Callahan a few days last week.

Mrs. Robert Deaton, who has been at the point of death for some time, is slowly improving.

Joshua Daniel, of Woburn, is here Thursday, visiting his sister, Mrs. Robert Deaton.

Deaton.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bowling and son, Willie, visited friends and relatives in Jackson from Friday until Monday last.

Mrs. Lula Reynolds, of Canoe, was at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Robert Deaton, from Wednesday over Sunday.

Mrs. Sarah Aikman, of Woburn, was here last week visiting her mother, Mrs. L. C. Bowling. She returned home Sunday, accompanied by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Bowling.

Hello, "Few Clothes," wake up and let us hear from you again. Something seems to be the matter. ELIZABETH.

MEN WANTED.

Men of experience wanted at the Frozen Creek Camel Coal Mines. Address: Z. T. Hurst, Owner, Boxer, Ky. 31-2m.

Now Comes Campton.

Campton is the latest place in Eastern Kentucky to produce a sensational correspondent. The correspondents from Owensville and Sergeant will howl to go way back and sit down. This Campton plucky liner, after reading an item in the Breathitt County News last week that a baby had been found buried in leaves on Frozen Creek, sends a communication to the daily papers in which he says "there is considerable excitement over the finding of the body." There appears to be very little excitement on Frozen over the finding of the body. The item was evidently copied from The News with the exception of the sensational points, as it was several days before it appeared in the dailies.

Tell Us the News.

Are you going out of town today? Do you have any news for us? Do you just returned from a trip? Do your friends know you have returned? Do you have any out of town relatives or friends visiting at your home? Do you know any deaths or marriages taking place? Do you know of anything else that the public would like to know? Would you kindly write it for us and send to us? Sign your name to the note that we may know who you are. We will not publish your name. We will thank our readers most heartily for any and all such information that we can obtain in this way.

How to Save Time.

A farmer in Illinois says he has adopted a plan of advertising in his home paper which has saved him much valuable time and has brought handsome returns on the money invested. He says: "When I am ready to sell my stuff I insert a little advertisement in the local paper telling what I have to sell, and, if live stock, how many head of each and when they will be ready to ship, and the result has been that the buyers are right after me, either personally or by mail, and naturally I always get the highest price. If I want to buy a cow, a steer, a horse or a dozen of each, I insert a little advertisement that costs may be 25 or 30 cents, and instead of traveling over the country inquiring of my neighbors who have this or that for sale the home newspaper does it for me at less expense, and those who have what I want manage to let me know in some way."

Since we are going out of business at Jackson, all persons owing us on account or notes must arrange same by June 25, or we will sue, attach, garnish and sell until these accounts are made. Fair warning.

NOBLE & NOBLE.

Since candidate Hager has declared for temperance the price of liquor should take a tumble. Now if Kurnel Hager, in his haste to climb into the water wagon, should only quit drinking, well, that would sound a little more to the point. What avails a man to cry temperance with his bay-window full of red likert—Maysville Ledger.

SPLENDID BAND.

Kopp Gets Engagement For Blue Grass Fair.

The importance which the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington has attained in the public eye is evidenced by the fact that the directors of both Sousa's and Creator's bands have written to the Secretary to try secure engagement for the week of the big Lexington show, August the 12-17. The famous band master, Duss, who played at the State Fair at Lexington two years ago, is also exceedingly anxious to come to the Blue Grass Fair. But it has been decided, after careful consideration by the management of the Lexington exhibition to secure again Kopp's great military band of Cincinnati. This was the band which had the engagement last year. It gave universal satisfaction and was regarded by thousands of those who attended the fair as the best band they had ever heard. For this reason the management of the Fair has given Mr. Kopp first call over all other bands and he has shown his appreciation by saying that he would rather come back to Lexington for a return engagement than to play any other date which he has ever filled. Mr. Kopp has arranged to have special features in the way of soloists and quartettes which will add much to the interest of his musical programme. His concert will begin regularly each morning at ten o'clock and continue throughout the day. They will undoubtedly be one of the most interesting features connected with the Fair.

Do You Read The News?

The News should be found in every home. No children should grow up in ignorance who can be taught to appreciate the home paper. It is said to be the stone of intelligence in all those matters not to be found in books. Give your children a foreign paper which contains not a word about any person, place or thing, which they saw or perhaps ever heard of, and how could you expect them to be interested? But let them have the home paper and read of the people whom they meet and of places of which they are familiar and soon an interest is awakened which increases with every arrival of the local paper. Thus a reading habit is formed and those children will read the papers all their lives and become intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors, strong in the knowledge of the world as it is today.

Chas Stephenson, Clintonville, Ky., says: I cured my chickens of cholera with Bourbon Poultry Cure and cannot speak to highly for it as an invaluable remedy for fowls. Sold and guaranteed by Day Bros Co.
